1 Philosophy

On pg.185 of History, Marias identifies a "line" that runs through philosophy for over 2500 that goes through 7 characters: Parmenides, Plato, Aristotle, Descartes, Leibniz, Kant and Hegel. By understanding what these thinkers have in common, I'm assuming that we can get to the root of philosophy.

- 1.1 Parmenides
- 1.2 Plato
- 1.3 Aristotle
- 1.4 Descartes
 - 1.4.1 The Cartesian Problem
 - 1.4.2 Man
 - 1.4.3 God
 - 1.4.4 The World
 - 1.4.5 Rationalism and Idealism
 - 1.4.6 Malebranche
 - 1.4.7 The Religious Thinkers
- 1.5 Leibniz
 - 1.5.1 Leibniz' Philosophic Situation
 - 1.5.2 Leibniz' Metaphysics
 - 1.5.3 Theory of Knowledge
 - 1.5.4 Theodicy
- 1.6 Kant
 - 1.6.1 Transcendental Idealism
 - 1.6.2 The "Critique of Pure Reason"
 - 1.6.3 Practical Reason
 - 1.6.4 The Interpretations of Kant's Philosophy
 - 1.6.5 Theory of Knowledge
 - 1.6.6 Being
 - 1.6.7 Philosophy
- 1.7 Hegel
 - 1.7.1 The Outline of Hegel's Philosophy

The true form in which truth exists can only be the scientific system of truth. To contribute toward making philosophy approximate the form of science--toward enabling it to shed the name 'love of knowledge' and be a real knowledge--this is what I propose to do.
